

Tariff Pledge By LBJ

Herter Gives Message At Meet Opening

GENEVA (AP) — President Johnson pledged United States help to bring the Kennedy round of tariff negotiations "to a happy and fruitful conclusion."

Former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, the President's chief trade negotiator delivered Johnson's message to the formal opening session today of the Kennedy round.

The session marked the beginning of a marathon tariff cutting effort by the 75 members of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade — GATT — expected to continue for at least two years.

"Upon the opening of this meeting of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, an important and effective instrument for the expansion of world trade, I should like to send you the best wishes for success from the people of the United States," Johnson said.

"Your meetings, universally known as the Kennedy round, exemplify the hope and commitment of our late president to bring together the nations of the world in peaceful pursuits. I believe, as he did, in the necessity of success in your work."

"We in the United States look upon these negotiations as an important opening to a better world. If we act together with dedication of purpose, all can gain and none need lose. Not only the major commercial nations, but all the countries of this shrinking world—poor and rich alike—have the right to expect success from our endeavors."

"For the United States, I can assure you that we shall spare no effort in seeking to help bring this meeting, and the meetings which will follow, to a happy and fruitful conclusion."

Hard bargaining on tariff cuts cannot begin before Sept. 10, authoritative sources said. That is the date when 75 of the nations have tentatively agreed to submit their lists of exceptions—goods and products which they refuse to submit to blanket tariff cuts.

Herter's U.S. delegation has congressional authorization to seek across-the-board tariff cuts of 50 per cent.

Court Review On Objectors Belief Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to review a decision that conscientious objectors need not believe in a supreme being to be exempted from military service.

The decision was given by the U.S. Court of Appeals in New York. It said exemption may be based on deeply rooted beliefs and sentiments.

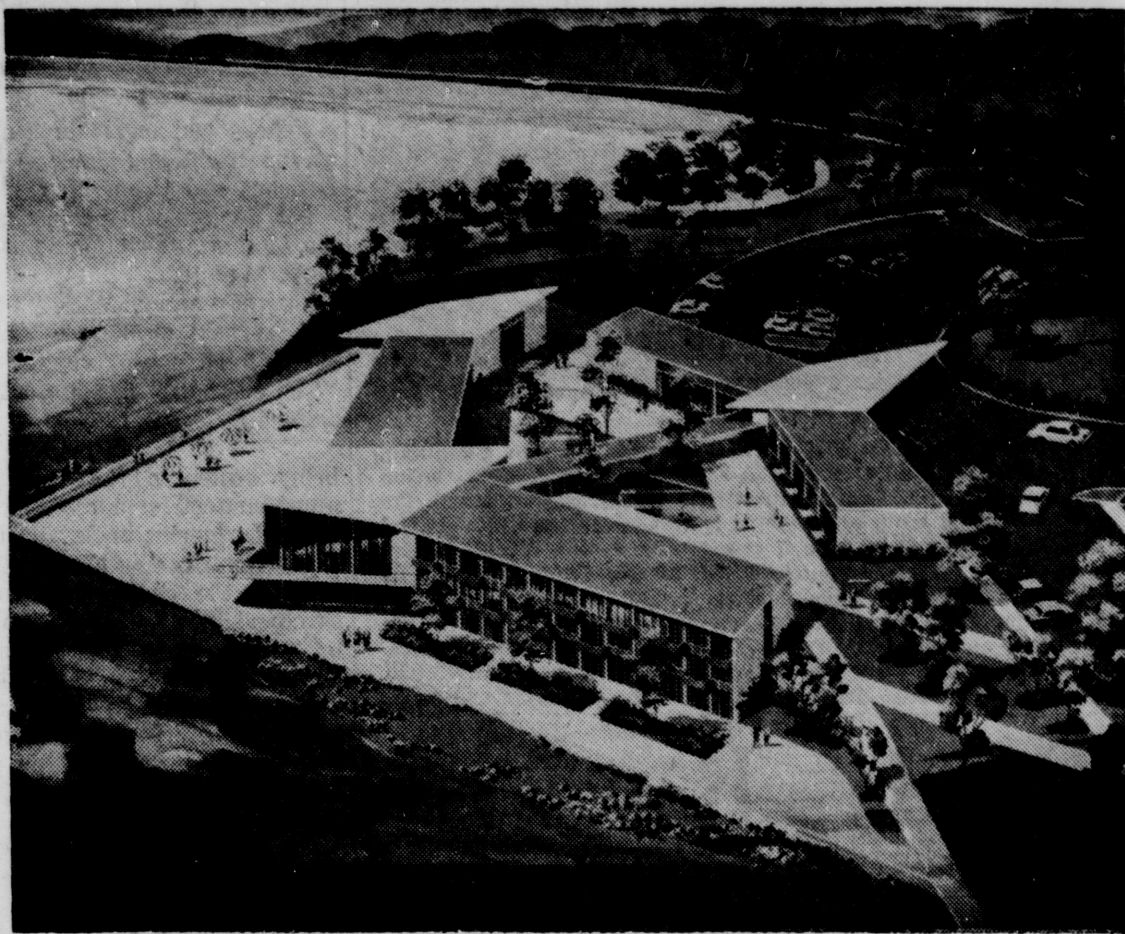

A requirement that conscientious objection be based on religious beliefs, including existence of a supreme being, the Circuit Court held, would violate the Constitution.

The Justice Department appealed to the high tribunal, saying the decision "expressly holds unconstitutional a classification deliberately adopted by Congress in 1948 and implicitly approved in subsequent extensions and modifications of the Universal Military Training and Service Act. The decision also raises important questions concerning the permissible scope of Congress' authority to require compulsory military service."

Farm Workers Finding Jobs Easy to Locate

Farm workers in this area are finding jobs easy to come by, even though the heavy rains have kept some planting down to a minimum. With about one week of no heavy rain farmers are back in the fields and the prospects for good crops are better.

The Farm Labor Bulletin reports for Sedalia that: "Although this area has had a lot of rain the past three weeks it was badly needed. Despite adverse weather conditions, the demand for qualified married farm workers is good and is in excess of the supply."

For Marshall, the Bulletin reports, "Additional rains have delayed farmers in plowing and planting. Very little corn has been planted. Demand for tractor operators is increasing and farmers are becoming anxious to start planting. All of the farmers from whom the office has orders for year-round farm hands have been informed of "Hire Day." Orders and inquiries have been received from several other Employment Service offices."

US Show of Force

Destroyer Docks In Saigon Harbor

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The U.S. Destroyer Lyman K. Swenson arrived in Saigon today for what could be an American show of force following the sinking of the aircraft transport Card in the Saigon River.

A Navy spokesman said the Swenson was on a routine operational visit. Aboard was Capt. C. C. Hartigan Jr., commander of the 7th Fleet's Destroyer Squadron Nine.

The Swenson tied up within sight of the Card, which has been partially refloated since terrorists tore a 28-foot hole in its side with explosives before dawn Saturday.

Salvage workers were patching the hole preparatory to pumping out the vessel.

Saigon still was tense and on the alert Monday with patrols checking downtown traffic and troops swarming around the dock area.

No one was seriously injured aboard the Card but eight Americans and a Vietnamese were wounded when another terrorist tossed a handgrenade into their midst in Saigon Saturday night.

Four of the wounded said they wanted to get back to the battle zone as soon as they could.

"It's safer there than here in Saigon," said Lt. Hector Dittamo, 22, of West Paterson, N.J., with a wry smile.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had driven along the Saigon Street Saturday night just 10 minutes before a Viet Cong terrorist on a bicycle lobbed the handmade grenade into a group of American servicemen.

Pfc. Joseph G. Gustafson, 25, of Bayfield, Wis., said he saw the grenade rolling at them.

"I hollered 'Watch it' and started to run. There was a tremendous bang. I kept running. I didn't realize I'd been hit until I looked down and there was blood all over me."

"It exploded two feet away from me. I guess it's a miracle I'm still alive," said Spec. 4 John Arnett, 19, of Louisville, Ky.

OBITUARIES

Heston M. Green (Sedalia)

Heston Milton Green, 58, retired Missouri Pacific Railroad machinist, took his own life Saturday night, at his home, 811 Crescent Drive, by electrocuting himself. According to members of his family he was given his retirement because of poor health, shortly after the first of the year.

His son William Green reported his father underwent an examination at the Missouri Pacific Hospital several months ago at which time he was informed he had a bad heart. He was unable to return to his work at the local shops and in December when he returned for another examination his retirement was ordered.

He was found by Mrs. Green when she returned home about 12:30 a.m. Sunday morning from her work at the Old Missouri Homestead where she is a hostess.

She immediately called her son, William, Werner Trailer Court, who with his wife had left his mother a short time before, they also being employed at the Homestead.

Dr. J. M. Rodeman, deputy coroner, went to the home and said he died almost instantly when he came in contact with the electricity. He said an inquest was not necessary.

He was born in Plattsmouth, Neb., Oct. 29, 1905, son of the late Ira B. and Ollie Jennings Green. He married Katie Mae Stuber in Sedalia, June 21, 1928, and she survives.

Mr. Green had been a resident of Sedalia since 1925. He was a member of the Federated Church and International Association of Machinists.

MS Fight As Complex As Disease

What can you do to fight multiple sclerosis? Members of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and its chapters have an answer — give to the 1964 MS Hope Chest campaign!

But becoming an MS Hope Chest contributor, necessary as that is, is only part of the role you must play in the battle against MS. For blind support of any cause is only token involvement. Multiple sclerosis—the disease itself—is complex. Its effects on your friends, your neighbors, your family, yourself, can be devastating. The loss to our community and nation in productivity is formidable.

Your involvement, therefore, must be total rather than token;

State Jaycees Elect 2 From Local Clubs

Sedalians landed top offices in the Missouri Jaycees and Jaycee Wives and took three awards as the state Junior Chamber of Commerce held its annual convention over the weekend at Joplin.

Allen L. Hawkins, 1609 West Ninth, was one of six National Directors chosen to serve during 1964-65 year. He is a past president of the Sedalia Jaycees and immediate past vice president of Missouri Jaycee District 5.

Mrs. Sylvia Darrow, 237 Driftwood Drive, was named the Missouri Jaycee Wives new state president. She has been local president and a District 5 vice-president in the wives auxiliary. Mrs. Darrow is the wife of Dr. Clem Darrow, a federal veterinarian, who is second vice-president of the local Jaycees.

Key man of the Quarter honors for the spring quarter in state competition went to John W. Gardner, 905 South Beacon. Gardner co-chaired the recent "Miss Sedalia" beauty pageant, headed the chapter membership drive, was a co-director of a clinic for the Sabin on Sunday polio vaccine program and was active on several other committees.

Sedalia's club publication, "The Sedalia Jaycee," was accorded first place for chapter news organs for the fourth year in a row in its population division. The Jaycee paper is an offset magazine printed by the Walker Publishing Company and edited by Willis Arnold, 1007 South Vermont.

The Sedalia Jaycee Wives were named outstanding club of the year in their population division based on judging of scrapbooks submitted at the state convention — the second such award in two years for the local women. Mrs. Gloria Withers, 1707 South Park, headed the wives club during the 1963-64 year.

Robert W. Simms, Independence, was elected president of the state Jaycees on one ballot after some vote changing and the withdrawal of one candidate. Simms' election did not come, however, until after the delegates had become embroiled in a long parliamentary procedure wrangle and a roll call vote upheld the decision of out-going president Bob Wolff to close the ballot.

Other National Directors chosen besides Hawkins of Sedalia were Joy Kallmeyer, Hermann; Henry Y. Cashion, Farmington; Bill Cable, Kirksville; Carl Craig, Jefferson City; and Key Largo, Southern Jackson County.

your support the result of understanding; your gift a meaningful expression born of understanding and dedication.

Multiple sclerosis is a disease of the human central nervous system, man's brain and spinal cord. Medically, it is characterized by the destruction of a substance called myelin which insulates the nerve fibers. Destroyed myelin is replaced by scar tissue. Nerve message impulses directing vision, hearing, movement, speech and balance are distorted, sometimes blocked. MS is progressive, often leading to total disability.

Multiple sclerosis is especially tragic in its choice of victims. That is to say, it tends to strike at young adults in the twenty to forty age bracket, in the prime of family and community service, at the time of highest mutual family involvement and productivity. It is estimated that 500,000 Americans have been stricken by multiple sclerosis and related diseases. For these reasons, MS has been onomously classified as: "The great crippler of young adults!"

Eighteen years ago, in 1946, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society was founded to fight multiple sclerosis. Very little was known about MS at that time. Cause, cure and prevention were unknown. There was little hope for early victory.

Now, the Society numbers 171 chapters, branches and affiliates across our nation. It has spent nearly four million dollars on scientific research of the highest caliber. It has helped train the most promising medical students it could find for careers in MS research or in teaching. It marshals the country's highest professional and scientific competence in its leadership ranks.

Yet, still the battle rages against MS; cause, cure and prevention remain unknown. But there is a difference. Now there is hope for victory, hope made bright by the Society's intensified research program. Now there is help for MS patients, help made manifest through Society chapter programs of community patient service. And there is light at the end of the dark road, the shining light of ultimate victory.

It is you who have set that light aglow. To you, the MS Hope Chest contributor, belongs the task of bringing it closer. From you will flow the funds, the meaningful thoughtful gifts to the MS Hope Chest campaign. This is your role in the battle against MS.

Garden Sweet Corn and Green Beans

Time is just around the corner when the first planting of sweet corn and green beans can be made. As soon as you can get your garden seed bed ready, you can start your planting. Germination will be delayed until soil temperature reaches 60 degrees, so planting dates will really be determined by "Old Man Weather."

Sweet corn should be planted in rows 36 to 42 inches apart. Spacing between plants should be about 10 inches. Depth of planting will vary with the soil type, from 1/2 to 1 inch.

If you use seed left over from last year, increase your rate of seeding by 50 per cent. Sweet corn germination declines rather quickly.

There are many varieties of sweet corn from which to choose. Some are not specifically adapted to our climatic conditions. Our hot weather reduces both growth and quality.

For the past few years, the University of Missouri has been suggesting a different method of planting sweet corn. If you haven't tried it, give it some serious thought. I believe it has some real merit.

Sweet corn is at its best when eaten fresh, just a few hours out of the garden. However, since sweet corn is only at its peak quality for not more than a few days, we find ourselves in a feast or famine situation. We have more corn than we can eat, and then we have none.

This situation can be improved by planting several varieties with different maturity dates, and planting them all on one date. Regardless of the weather, you will experience a series of harvest dates which could extend over a period of over three to four weeks.

For this method to be most effective, maturity dates of sweet corn varieties should vary by at least 7 days. Best early varieties usually mature in 70 days. Those maturing earlier than this leave something to be desired, either in yield, quality, or both.

The following varieties should be used — Gold Rush, 70 days; FM Cross, 79 days; Golden Cross Bantam, 85 days; Stowell's Evergreen Hybrid, 93 days.

You may want to try other varieties that give a maturity spread of about 7 days. Regardless of variety, plant at least two rows to insure adequate pollination.

The other outstanding garden vegetable is the green bean. Whether grown as a bush bean or on a pole, this is one of the real taste tempters. It can be eaten quite often without becoming tiring. Home canned beans have something about them that can be surpassed only by garden harvested green beans.

Bush beans should be planted in rows 24 to 42 inches apart. Pole beans are usually planted on tripod poles. Plant beans about one inch deep. Bush beans should be spaced about three inches apart in the row.

Since both bush bean varieties mature in from 50 to 55 days, we cannot plant them as suggested for sweet corn.

To have a continuous harvest of green beans, several plantings can be made at three to four weeks intervals, until the first of August. Pole beans usually offer a longer period of harvest than bush beans.

As to varieties, Top Crop and Contenders are still regarded as top green bean varieties. Contender seems to set well in warm weather. Top Crop is excellent for freezing. Other varieties of bush beans you might want to try are Tender Crop and Improved Tender Green.

New pole bean varieties are outstanding; they are the old reliable, Kentucky Wonder, and the high quality stringless Blue Lake.

Pasture of the Month

A committee of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and the County University Extension Council members met last Wednesday night to plan the "Pasture of the Month" contest.

The contest will be held during June, July, August and September. A pasture winner will be selected in each of these months.

The monthly winners will receive a trophy, certificate of achievement, and in addition a sign will be placed on their farm to indicate the best pasture of the month.

In September, the four monthly winning pastures will be judged for a grand total winner over all. This grand champion pasture winner will receive a grand prize of a trip to the American Royal and a trophy.

The contest, which includes the American Royal trip, trophies and certificates, is sponsored by the Agricultural Committee of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and the Pettis County University Extension Council.

If you have a pasture to enter or if you wish to nominate a neighbor's pasture, nomination forms are available in the University Extension Center.

Members of the "Pasture of the Month" Committee are: Dick East, Chairman, Dr. R. E. Gouge, Fred Karigan, John Herring, J. D. Gregory, Willard Hall, Clarence Schlesselman and Sam Hieronymus.

1964 Wheat Program
The voluntary wheat program included in the Agricultural Act of 1964 contains several provisions that Pettis County farmers may want to consider. The program provides that participating farmers can qualify for price support loans, marketing certificates with a cash value, and payment for diverting crop land for an approved conservation use.

A wheat farmer who wants to take part in the new program must declare his intention and sign an agreement at the County ASC office. The sign up date begins May 1 and runs through May 15. A producer who signs up and carries out the program and provisions becomes eligible for price support loans on all wheat produced. He also can receive marketing certificates based on the normal production of acres of wheat for harvest. Two kinds of certificates will be used. One will have a value of 70 cents a bushel and the other a value of 25 cents per bushel.

A farmer qualified for price support loan and marketing certificates by producing within his farm wheat allotment, producing within his wheat allotment on other farms in which he has an interest, and producing within acreage allotments for other crops on his farm. He also must divert an acreage equal to 11.11 per cent of his wheat allotment to conservation use as well as maintain the farms normal conservation use base. He will receive payments for diverting this acreage.

In addition to the minimum diversion of 11.11 per cent of the farm's wheat allotment, the producer can divert up to 20 per cent more wheat acreage (or 15 acres, whichever is larger) to conservation use. If the allotment is 13.5 acres or less, the entire allotment can be diverted.

Then moisten a paper towel or cloth and scatter 100 seeds on it so the seeds do not touch. Place another moistened towel on top of the seeds and roll into a tight enough bundle so that the seeds will not bunch together.

This bundle can be wrapped in moist newspapers to prevent drying out. Place it on end in an open container and cover with moist newspapers and place it where it will be near normal temperatures.

Be sure you keep it moist. Read the test in from 7 to 10 days, counting only the strong sprouts. This rag doll test will not be accurate enough to use in selling seed, but it can give you an idea whether the seed

Explosion In Sewer

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—Gasoline fumes exploded in a sewer line Saturday, jolting homes in a half-mile-square residential area. No one was reported injured.

Fire officials said a service station flushed out an underground gasoline storage tank with water and the mixture drained into the sewer.

Seven manhole covers were blown into the air. Fire apparatus, police cars and ambulances stood by. Fire hoses were used to flush the sewer.

A farmer complying with this and other program provisions will receive diversion papers.

Pettis County farmers can receive more information about the wheat program at the County ASC office.

Minimum Soil Temperatures For Corn

Farmers wanting to plant corn as soon as possible are asking for the minimum temperature at which corn can be expected to germinate. University of Missouri Extension Field Crop Specialist, Bill Murphy, says this minimum soil temperature is around 48 degrees.

However at a constant temperature at 50 to 55 degrees, it may take corn 18 to 20 days to emerge. This has little bearing when corn can be planted, since our temperatures fluctuate so much.

Early planted corn consistently produces higher yield, provided it is not so early as to be excessively damaged by frost and freezing temperatures.

Germination Tests on Soybeans
Do you have good soybean seed to plant? To make germination tests on soybeans, you should first mix a sample of seed taken from several places throughout the seed lot.

Then moisten a paper towel or cloth and scatter 100 seeds on it so the seeds do not touch. Place another moistened towel on top of the seeds and roll into a tight enough bundle so that the seeds will not bunch together.

This bundle can be wrapped in moist newspapers to prevent drying out. Place it on end in an open container and cover with moist newspapers and place it where it will be near normal temperatures.

60 Are Hurt When Train Jump Tracks

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP)—A high-speed passenger train, racing across the flat northern Indiana prairie at 75 miles an hour, jumped the tracks Saturday. An estimated 60 persons were hurt.

Thirteen passengers and one crewman were admitted to La Porte hospitals. Twenty-four others were released after treatment. Sheriff's deputies said first aid was given to a score of other persons with minor injuries.

There were no fatalities. None of those hospitalized was listed in critical condition.

The derailment twisted seats in the cars and catapulted passengers into the aisles.

All 10 cars and two diesel units derailed. About 100 passengers were aboard the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad train. They included 39 seniors from Maria High School for girls in Stevens Point, Wis.

The cause of the wreck in a rural area seven miles southwest of La Porte was not determined immediately.

The derailed cars remained upright but some tilted as much as 45 degrees.

Engineer James S. Lazdnby, 63, Garrett, Ind., said none of the train's crew in the engine section was hurt. His fireman was Stanley W. Rathert of Auburn, Ind.

Pasture Rent for Cow and Calf

To rent pasture, how much can you afford to pay in a cow, calf operation?

University of Missouri extension farm management specialist Ed Wiggins says livestock men generally pay the going pasture rental in their area if they want to rent pasture. Rates charged in a given area are influenced by custom, kind and amount of pasture, and demand by farmers for pasture. Monthly rental rates are cheaper during the spring and summer than during the fall and winter.

Wiggins says a cow and calf will consume about two and a half tons of hay or pasture. This has a value of around $9 a ton for a total value of around $21.50. For a six month period on pasture, this would break down to $3.50 a month.

Hear Saline Pork Raisers Report On Their Activities

By LLOYD LEWELLEN
Balanced Farming Agent

A group of Pettis County pork producers met at the courthouse Wednesday night, April 29, to hear pork producers from Saline County report on their county swine activities.

Tommy Keirn, president of the Saline County Swine committee, told how they held five swine shows since they have been organized in 1956. For the last three years educational meetings have been sponsored. This has been a series of four meetings each year with specialists from outside providing the program.

Herschel Gaddy, Saline County director, told how the Missouri Association of Swine Producers was formed in 1955. Beef has replaced one-third of the pork consumed 20 years ago. Promotion of pork must come from united effort. It is hoped that more counties will bond together as a commercial group to work on problems at county and state levels.

Jigg Sandage, Saline County commercial swine producer and chairman of the State Pork Producers, stated some of this state committee's achievements have been the swine testing station and spring barrow show at Columbia. The big problem at hand is eradication of hog cholera. Today 18 countries ban U.S. export of pork to their land due to our diseases. County organizations are needed to continue the progress on the eradication of hog cholera. A booth at the Agricultural Building will be rented at the State Fair this year to promote education on hog cholera.

The present swine committee was voted as the officers of the Pettis County Pork Producers Association. The dues will be $6 per year with $2 going to the county, state and national. Paul Neitzert will serve as chairman, Charles Reine as vice-president and Philip Monsees as secretary-treasurer.

New Carcass Cooler Acquired

"Looks kinda like a cross between a meat locker and an aquarium on wheels."

This was the description offered by one approving swine breeder as he examined the portable carcass cooler recently acquired by the Missouri Department of Agriculture.

Charles E. Ausfahl, director of the department's Livestock Division, unveiled the new facility April 27 at a board meeting of the Missouri Swine Producers Assn. in Columbia. It is ready for use this summer at Missouri state, district and county fairs to display prize-winning porkers.

Mounted on a trailer, the 2½-ton cooler is equipped with a 1 h.p. compressor which operates off of standard 110-volt a.c. and can maintain temperatures inside the unit at 34 degrees or below, if desired.

Twin thermopane "picture windows" on either side of the aluminum-finished cooler permit close inspection of as many as 10 carcasses.

The unit was built this spring by a Kansas City refrigeration firm to specifications drawn up by Ausfahl and Dr. H. D. Naumann, associate professor of animal husbandry at the University of Missouri. It is smaller, but similar in concept to one successfully used by the University of Iowa. It cost $2,500.

Ausfahl said he hopes to be able to purchase two additional coolers, one for beef and one for lamb carcasses. Beef quarters were used for demonstration purposes in Columbia, but a larger unit will be required for full-length beef carcass display.

"Up to now," Ausfahl said, "Missouri has lagged behind in carcass competition, mainly because few county or district fairs have the facilities to display dressed out animals."

He estimated that as many as 40 of Missouri's 160 local fairs would be able to offer carcass competition within the next year or two, now that the portable cooler is available.

Carcass judging, which offers better criteria for determining actual value, is growing in popularity throughout the livestock industry, Ausfahl said. It eliminates even the educated guesswork involved in judging animals on the hoof.

Ausfahl recalled the experience of one Missouri swine producer whose Duroc barrow finished last fall at the American Royal in Kansas City. That same barrow, he said, was later declared the champion in carcass competition.

The Livestock Division administers the state aid-to-fairs program wherein county and district fairs and breed shows receive technical and financial assistance. The purpose of the program is to encourage quality improvement in agricultural products to benefit the producer, processor and consumer.

The Business World

Future Business Outlook Termed Exceptionally Good

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The first quarter of 1964 was notable for American business as far as profits were concerned.

This good news for stockholders poured in a steady stream from corporations' annual meetings, which were held by the hundreds in April.

It emphasized that the country is enjoying unusually good times and that the outlook for the immediate future is excellent.

Outstanding among the reports was that of giant General Motors Corp., the No. 1 auto maker. Its first quarter profits were the greatest for a three-month period of any corporation in history.

In many cases increases in profits far outdistanced those in sales, indicating that cost-cutting procedures inaugurated when business was suffering from a profit squeeze have paid off.

For example, U.S. Steel Corp.

reported a 72 per cent gain in first quarter profits over a year earlier on a sales gain of only 11 per cent. Continental Can Co. profit climbed 50 per cent on a sales gain of 7 per cent.

A Wall Street Journal tabulation of first quarter earnings reports of 548 companies showed their combined net income had advanced 21.1 per cent over a year earlier to $3.8 billion.

Two of three companies increased their profits and more than 50 reported record first quarter sales and earnings.

Of 33 classifications of industries, only two—tobacco and apparel—failed to equal their 1963 first quarter results.

Tobacco company profits were hurt by the reaction to the U.S. surgeon general's report that cigarette smoking causes lung cancer, but cigarette sales have made a comeback and the profit outlook is promising.

The airline and steel groups, which made relatively poor showings in the first three months of 1963, rang up the best gains.

Good gains also were posted by motors, chemicals, building materials and heavy machinery, office equipment, metals, pulp and paper, mining, petroleum and electronics.

Only 14 of the companies reported losses, compared with 32 in the 1963 first quarter.

In addition to sharp cost control, more efficient operations through automation and improved facilities are important factors in the brighter profit picture.

Another influence was the firming of prices in many lines which enabled management to offset increased labor costs.

Indonesians Smile At Sen. Keating

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kenneth Keating's expressed concern that U.S. military training being given Indonesian Army officers may help Indonesia's guerrilla warfare against Malaysia has drawn smiles from Indonesian sources here.

"The senator obviously is not aware that one of the textbooks of guerrilla warfare was written by Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, our minister of defense and chief of the armed forces," said one Indonesian.

State Department officials confirmed that a book entitled, "Territorial Waters," written by Nasution in the 1950s, was indeed on the shelves of the library available to American officers studying at Ft. Bragg, N.C., the Army's chief school for guerrilla and counter-insurgent tactics.

Furthermore, it was pointed out that the Indonesian Army, now numbering 300,000, used guerrilla tactics in gaining Indonesia's independence from the Dutch after World War II. Again, during the 1958 revolt in Sumatra and the Celebes, rebels fought for two years with a total guerrilla strategy, and government forces put the revolt down with what are now called counter-insurgent tactics.

Keating, Republican of New York, criticized the administration, and particularly the State Department, for providing 280 Indonesian military and police officers with training in this country.

State Department officials said the figure of 280 was correct in early March, but the number has now declined to a total of 227.

None of the group is assigned to Ft. Bragg, State Department officials said. The largest group, 51 Army officers, is assigned to civic action programs. Ten are at Syracuse University and 41 in the Washington area. They are assigned to work called civilian management courses to provide skills in marketing techniques, production and distribution programs, road building, irrigation and agricultural protection work.

U.S. officials said the Indonesian military is already engaged in a number of non-military functions because of the absence of trained civilians. For example army officers are running a government-owned oil company in Sumatra.

Other army officers are in charge of the ministries of public works and energy, light industry, land communications posts, telegraphs and telephone services, and also the ministry of sea communications.

Of the 190 Indonesian military officers in this country, 37 are with the Navy, 31 are Marines, and 10 Air Force and 61 are in Army courses aside from the civic action group.

The Navy contingent is studying pilot training, aviation mechanics, oceanography, supply, engineering and electronics.

The U.S. aid program for Indonesia is undergoing a sharp reduction. In the year 1963 which ended last June 30, it totaled $134.1 million. In the year ending June 30, 1964, the total will reach an estimated $45 million, including $2 million in military assistance, $13 million in economic aid and about $30 million in surplus commodities.

For the 1965 fiscal year starting next July 1, a total of ap-

LONDON (AP) — Communist China says it will be free of all debt to the Soviet Union by the end of next year.

Chen Yi, deputy premier and foreign minister, made the statement in a talk with British correspondents. He said that all other foreign debts would be repaid by 1967 and all internal government debts the following year.

CORE Planning Demonstrations For Rights Bill

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Congress of Racial Equality, at a meeting of its National Action Council here, said it would stage nonviolent demonstrations in Washington to urge support for the civil rights bill and would send its own delegates to both the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

James Farmer, national director of CORE, told a news conference Sunday the civil rights organization would attempt to oust delegates from Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City Aug. 24 and replace them with its own delegates.

Farmer said CORE planned to hold rallies at the conventions of both parties, with mass picketing to dramatize its demands.

The Republican convention is being held in San Francisco July 13.

Farmer said one of the civil rights demands at the Democratic convention would be fair and full employment with a minimum $2 wage and a massive works and training program for the jobless.

At the Republican convention, he said, CORE would call for the repudiation of the "traditional alliance with 'Dixiecrats' on civil rights."

proximately $12 million planned — $10 million in economic assistance and $2 million in military training.

Pres. Johnson is still studying whether continued U. S. aid to Indonesia is in the American national interest. Under the present U.S. Foreign Aid Act he must make such a certification to Congress. Aid is also forbidden to any country which becomes an aggressor against a nation friendly to the United States.

U.S. officials contend that if the United States doesn't train the Indonesian officers they will be trained somewhere else. The Soviet Union and Poland and Czechoslovakia have trained many thousands more Indonesians than the United States has.

The Soviet bloc has given Indonesia $1 billion in economic aid. U.S. military assistance is estimated at one-fiftieth of that.

Season-long weed control from one Atrazine spray

Atrazine 80W herbicide is an easy one-spray weed control "plan" for corn that ends competition from most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses for the entire season. It works efficiently and profitably, promoting higher yields and reducing or even eliminating the need for cultivation.

Yields boosted by early control

Three years of intensive field study by independent research men prove that by controlling weeds during the first three weeks of corn growth, as many as 29 bushels per acre can be added to corn yield. When Atrazine is applied, broadcast or in bands over the rows, at or immediately after planting you get this early control... control that continues right on through to harvest.

How Atrazine works

Rainfall or shallow cultivation moves Atrazine down to the weed root zone where it is absorbed by germinating weeds. Soon after weeds emerge, they die. And, Atrazine stays to pick off later germinating weeds, right up to harvest.

Added benefits during dry weather

In a dry year, corn needs every bit of moisture and plant food it can get. An early and thorough job of weed control with Atrazine eliminates the added stress of weed competition during drought periods.

Atrazine gives corn a full season of sure, effective weed control—control that won't let weeds get started, from planting to harvest. Order your supply of Atrazine today.

Don't let weeds and grasses rob your crop of moisture and soil nutrients this year. Use Atrazine.

U. S. Woman Is Not Idle

Spring is a fitting time to pay a tribute to the fair sex by passing on some remarks made a few weeks ago by Mrs. Katie Louchheim of the State Department.

As deputy assistant secretary for community advisory services, Mrs. Louchheim has been in a position to note the surprise of foreign visitors when they encounter the American woman in her natural habitat.

"Before they come to the United States," says Mrs. Louchheim, "they have a mental image of the American woman living in idleness, pushing buttons to activate her innumerable electric servants."

"Instead, they find her out ringing doorbells to raise money for the United Fund, the Heart Drive, or others. She sits on the boards of community organizations. She carries trays in hospitals, exercises handicapped children in clinics. . .

"The community's welfare activities depend on her. It has been estimated that the hours of work freely given by our women volunteers would cost many millions of dollars if they had to be paid for. They are a priceless service to the community and to the nation."

Nor is woman's work limited to volunteer services. Mrs. Louchheim herself is an example of the many women in business, politics, government. Incidentally, the latter, she says, offers almost limitless opportunities to women.

In the State Department alone, 7 per cent of the 5,000 members of the Foreign Service are women. There are two women deputy assistant secretaries and three women in the important post of office director. Of only six career ambassadors, one is a woman.

In 1963, there were 29 counselors or first secretaries of embassies, 22 second secretaries and 60 third secretaries.

"American women," says Mrs. Louchheim, "are living and working all over the globe, as Foreign Service officers, as Peace Corps volunteers, as AID technical experts, as the wives of technical advisers or Foreign Service officers. . .

"For today's American woman, the community is not only her town, her city or even her nation. Her community is the world."

Bitter Campaign for School Prayer

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It hasn't made headlines, but members of the John Birch Society have got into the public school prayer act with a letter-writing campaign aimed at certain congressmen who have had the courage to stand up for the Supreme Court and the Constitution regarding the division of church and state.

The John Birch operation has been quieter than the two chief pressure lobbies on Congress, namely, "Project Alert" and "Project Prayer."

All have been inspiring letters calling foes of the Becker prayer amendment "Communist Dupes," "Godless," and "Atheist." It so happens that their chief targets are among the most God-fearing men in Congress — Reps. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., a deeply religious Jew; James C. Corman, D-Calif., a devout Methodist; William St. Onge, D-Conn., a Catholic with a sister in a convent; and Charles "Mac" Mathias, R-Md., a devout Episcopalian.

A John Birch Society bulletin, in urging letters to congressmen, declared that the Becker amendment would be a "body blow to all the pro-communist fellows — which means most of the Liberal establishment."

Rep. Frank Becker, the New York Republican who authored the amendment, has been highly vocal in and out of Congress. He told a project prayer rally at the First Baptist Church, Van Nuys, Calif., that certain people were trying to "remove the thought of Almighty God from the American people."

"This is a move to make the United States a Godless society," he added. "There's money and direction behind it."

Rev. Harold L. Fickett, Jr., Baptist pastor of the church where Becker spoke, said that Corman, the local California congressman, had been contacted time and again to sign a discharge petition to force the Becker bill out of the Judiciary Committee. "But he can't see it for the pink in front of his eyes."

Corman, a strict church goer, has been a steward in the North Hollywood, Calif., Methodist church for ten years, also a steward in Fairlington, Va., Methodist church.

The devout Corman answers attacks such as that by Rev. Fickett by reminding his villifiers:

"Religious freedom is our most important freedom. For 175 years Americans have enjoyed the unique privilege of a government which neither regulates nor participates in their individual religious convictions. For me, for my children, and I believe for most people, prayer is our own personal communication with God."

"To make it anything less or to permit its direction by any bureaucracy, even a school board, would be a radical departure from our heritage. It would be a step toward a system which the Pilgrims came here to escape. This view is shared by a number of religious denominations as well as students of constitutional law and American history."

Senile Congressmen

For some years there's been talk about improving the efficiency of Congress by removing elderly, sometimes senile committee chairmen, and giving younger men a chance. Some congressmen want an age limit on chairmen, others have proposed rotating the job. Many agree with Sen. Ken Keating, R-N.Y., that the congressional image is bad, that the public has lost confidence in Congress.

But when younger men, back in the home districts, challenge the aging incumbents, they get clobbered both politically and economically, until it isn't worth the sacrifice. Take, for instance, Trumbull County Chairman Robert E. Hagan, who had the courage to challenge cantankerous 77-year-old Mike Kirwan of Youngstown, Ohio. Both are Democrats.

When Hagan first announced, he got a phone call from Dr. William Timmons, stating that he had had a call from vice president James C. Lee of Bethlehem Steel, wanting Hagan to get out of the race. Bethlehem needed Indiana Harbor, on Lake Michigan, dredged, and Mike Kirwan, as czar of the rivers and harbors subcommittee, was considered the man who could get federal money to have it dredged—just as he got the Delaware River dredged for U.S. Steel at a cost of $92,000,000 — after U. S. Steel hired him son.

Hagan refused to bow out.

Then he got a call from a man who said: "You have a relative named Di Loretto in the post office. He's due for a promotion. Don't you know that this comes through the congressman?"

The caller referred to Larry Di Loretto, Hagan's brother-in-law.

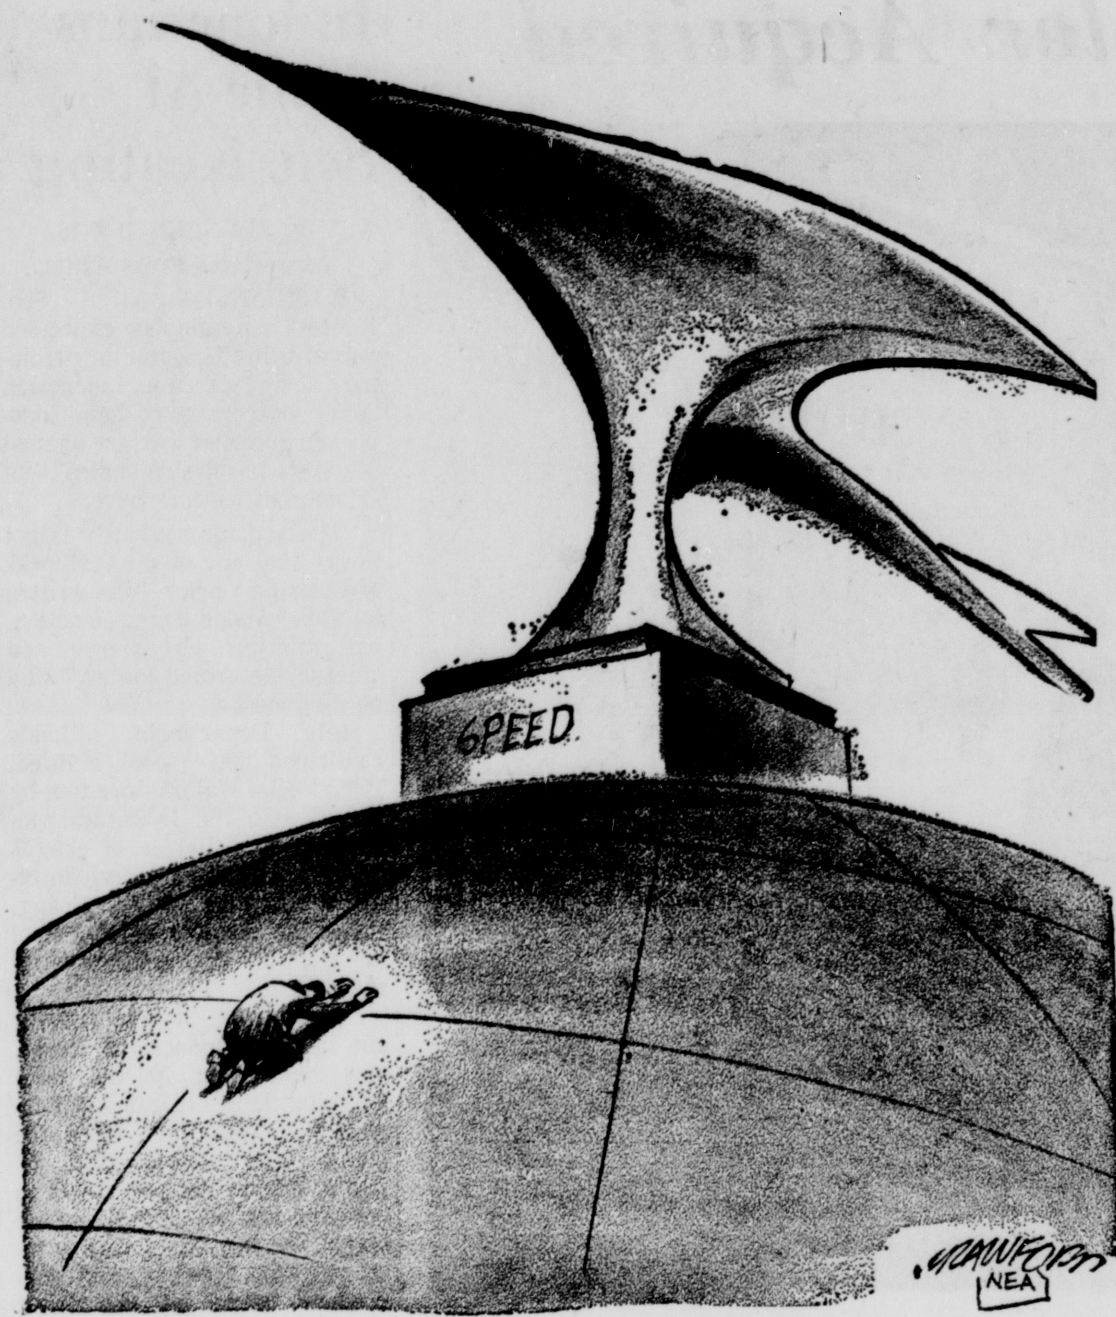

"If that's the way the ball bounces," replied Hagan, "let it bounce."

He has not quit the race — even though 64 congressmen were invited or pressured—to praise Kirwan on the House floor; and even though Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., was induced to eat his own words that Kirwan was a "legislative blackmailer" by going out to Youngstown and endorsing him.

Morse and many of these congressmen have been complaining about encrusted committee chairmen and have wanted to give younger men a break. Yet when the test came, the knuckled under.

Thanks to all this, the man who had the courage to oppose Kirwan will be defeated; as will Ron Mottl of Cleveland who had the courage to challenge another encrusted Democratic congressman, Mike Feighan of Cleveland. However, Hagan and Mottl have succeeded in scaring the daylight out of both aged incumbents. This should make them better congressmen; or pave the way for their defeat next time, if they don't improve.

Some political battles are won even in defeat.

'You're Not My Real Mother'

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My husband's 12-year-old girl by his ex-wife spends part of her school vacations with us. Frankly, I dread these visits. Another is due this June and I would appreciate any advice you can offer that will get us through it without real trouble. She can't stand my asking her to do things. But I have to ask her to do something occasionally like taking her laundry out of the bathroom basin. Then what I get is, "You're not my real mother. Why should I?"

Answer: Of course you're not her real mother. But what has that got to do with your right to ask her to consider your wishes?

Children are obliged to consider the wishes of many adults who are not their "real" mothers—teachers, policemen, camp counselors, the parents of friends. So your stepdaughter's excuse for refusing to consider your wishes makes no sense in terms of reasonable protest.

But it seems to carry great weight with you. Why? Why are you compelled to retreat from a position by this child's reminder that you are not her "real" mother? Is the fact that she has a real mother, one whom you want to forget? Is the fact that your husband has loved another woman still so painful to you that you can't stand being reminded of her realness by her child?

Perhaps it is not the discipline of this challenging child which has been making the trouble. Perhaps the actual troublemaker has been your own refusal to come to terms with your husband's previous marriage — your resistance to the "realness" of the sexual relationship that once existed between him and his ex-wife.

Had you accepted her past realness to him, their child's reminder of it would present you with no problem. Instead of letting it hurt you so that it drives you into retreat, you would turn on her challenging reminder and say:

"Of course I'm not your real mother! Let's get this straight between us once and for all. I am your stepmother. How could I possibly be your real mother when you already have one? What kind of nonsense talk is this—and what's it got to do with taking your laundry out of this bathroom basin? Please take it out and I'll get you a pan if you want to soak it some more before rinsing it . . ."

I think that you somehow feel you should have been able to possess all your husband's past love as well as all his present love. You could not, so it would be something of a relief, I think, to face this limit to your powers.

Pin Helps Button Sewing

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — Three columns make the paper for me and one is yours. When sewing on buttons, I lay a safety pin across the button and sew over the side that opens.

This is easier to hold than a straight pin and leaves a shank of thread, just right for easy buttoning. Just open the pin and it slides out quickly.

I keep a jar with ¾ vinegar and ¼ water under my kitchen sink. I pour some of this into my glass coffee pot after washing and let it stand a while. After the hard water rings are dissolved I pour this mixture back into the jar to use again.

I save the shaker jars that spices come in and fill with my face powder to keep the girls from wrecking the powder box. Less mess and waste.—STILL PLUGGING

DEAR POLLY — Sew a dress hook about one-half inch above the end of a skirt zipper to keep it from unzipping when you least expect it. Just pull the zipper up and slip the opening over the hook.—MRS. I. E.

Girls—This I like and have already put it to use on a dress with a tired zipper that has come unfastened at most inopportune times.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When my daughter was small, spelling was hard for her to learn. In order to help her overcome this difficulty, when anyone in the family wanted something he spelled it out. Her curiosity always got the best of her and she would work diligently trying to figure out what was being said. In a short time there was a noticeable improvement in her spelling.—MRS. E. L. R.

DEAR POLLY—If a hot iron sticks to starched pieces of clothing, just rub the iron over paraffin that is wrapped in cloth and you will have no more trouble.

Mend a tear in an otherwise good sport shirt with a piece of material cut from behind the pocket. The top of the pocket can be closed with a blind stitch. Thank you so much, Polly, for all the helpful hints. — MRS. M. E.

Girls — The thanks go two ways. My thanks to all of you wonderful and clever girls for sending in hints to share with me and the other girls.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I made a toy grocery out of crates and empty cans for my 7-year-old. The stacked crates serve as shelves. When I open a can, I cut the bottom out, making sure there are no sharp edges. The price of the can is on top. I wash out the cans and put them on the shelves with empty cereal boxes. With a toy cash register and toy money, the children enjoy themselves for hours at a time. —J. A. C.

DEAR POLLY — It is hard to keep the floor of the car clean in rainy, bad weather so I place two big cardboard boxes in the back of the car and have the children put their wet or snow-covered feet in the boxes. On arrival home, I remove the boxes and the car is left dry and clean. I get the boxes from the supermarket. —MRS. J. T.

DEAR POLLY — Rubber-headed tacks spaced about two inches apart on top of a wood clothes closet pole will keep the hangers from bunching up. — ELLA

Nixon Seen in Editors' Poll as the GOP Nominee

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — Editors polled across the country choose Richard M. Nixon by a wide margin as the likely winner of the 1964 Republican presidential nomination at San Francisco.

This is the verdict drawn from a poll taken by Newspaper Enterprise Association among its many hundreds of client newspapers.

More than 300 editors in every state but Mississippi responded to a broad series of questions bearing upon the 1964 GOP race.

Among editors who joined in the survey, 133 or 44.2 per cent believe Nixon will win the nomination as he did four years ago.

Seventy Editors, or 23.3 per cent, label Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge the probable nominee. In third place is Pennsylvania's Gov. William Scranton, who is rated the winner by 48 editors, almost 16 per cent of those answering.

Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater, the current GOP front runner with a presently estimated convention delegate total of 500 out of a needed 655, stands fourth in the editors' judgment. Just 40 of the more than 300 respondents — 13.3 per cent — think Barry will wind up with the nomination.

The most devastating verdict of all is reserved for New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Only four editors, a bare 1.3 per cent, expect him to emerge on top at San Francisco.

Scranton, third highest in the presidential sweepstakes, is the editors' clear choice as the Republican party's probable vice presidential nominee for 1964. He received the vote of 86 editors — 28.6 per cent of the total responding to the poll.

Fifty-one editors think Lodge will repeat his 1960 role as running mate, 44 give the palm to Kentucky's Sen. Thurston Morton, 31 voted for Goldwater and 27 for Nixon. A considerable number, 14 per cent, offer no opinion on the vice presidency.

Greatest responses to the poll were from the Midwest, whose editors supplied 33 per cent of the total. The South contributed 20 per cent of the replies.

Top-rated Nixon draws most of his support from the Midwest (46 editors) and South (29), with sizable backing showing up in the Plains states.

The editors who mark Lodge the winner for the No. 1 spot are rather well sprinkled about the nation. Scranton draws half of his third place status from the Midwest.

Almost three-quarters of the responding editors say their newspapers have not and will not endorse any candidate for the nomination. Most of these never do. Some 20 editors say their papers usually do endorse but will not this time.

Of the editors whose newspapers either have endorsed or may do so, 42 per cent have given their approval to Barry Goldwater. No other candidate has more than a mere handful of endorsements. The endorsing list includes 10 newspapers which usually do not make a choice at this stage.

Curiously, about one-third of the editors whose papers have endorsed Goldwater think Nixon, Lodge or Scranton will turn out to be the actual nominee.

Only a few editors volunteer any comment as to why they believe Nixon will be the winner. Some, however, explain why they think the most active bidders — Goldwater and Rockefeller — won't make it.

E. J. Van Nostrand, publisher and editor of the Creston (Iowa) News Advertiser, perhaps speak for many when he says:

"Senator Goldwater and Governor Rockefeller, after sizeable starts, do not seem to attract a 'get through' feeling. (They) don't seem to hit."

THE WELL CHILD
Antibiotics Can Control Painful Bone Infection

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Association

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — How does osteomyelitis affect a person? Can it be cured without an operation?

A — Osteomyelitis is an infection in a bone. It is painful and slowly destroys the bone. In the past the condition has been treated by opening the bone and establishing drainage but, although this relieves the pain by allowing the pus to escape, it rarely cures this chronic disease.

With the advent of antibiotics, treatment of this condition has improved, but special techniques are required to get a sufficient concentration of the antibiotic in the actual site of the infection. This treatment is applied only after opening the bone and scraping out the de-vitalized parts. Dr. Stuart Mudd, working at the Veterans Administration hospital in Philadelphia, has been using a bacteriophage which is a virus that destroys the staphylococci that cause the osteomyelitis and has reported good results. This would be a nonsurgical form of treatment but it is still experimental.

Q — My doctor says I have porphyria. Is this an allergy? How will it affect me? What causes it?

A — Porphyria is not an allergy. It appears to run in families. The underlying cause is an excessive production by the liver of porphyrin, a pigment. The victim usually has recurring attacks of severe abdominal pain, constipation and extreme muscular weakness—especially of the hands and feet.

Some victims get dark pigmented spots on their skin. Exposure to sunlight may cause severe blistering. The urine may appear normal when it is first passed but if it is allowed to stand in the sunlight it turns the color of burgundy wine or darker.

You must avoid barbiturates because they aggravate this condition. Reserpine, cortisone, dimercaptopropanol and other drugs are frequently given but it is hard to evaluate the results because even without treatment most victims have remissions.

We the Women

Wrong Group of 'Joneses'

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

This harried husband writes of a problem that is all too common in the early years of married life.

"For the five years we have been married, my wife and I have been going around with a crowd that has a lot more money to spend than we do.

"My wife doesn't complain because my job is small potatoes compared to the jobs of the other husbands in our crowd. But I know it makes her unhappy not to have as good a home as her friends have, not to be able to entertain the way the other girls do, or to dress as well.

"I think that gradually, we ought to stop seeing so much of this crowd and look for friends more nearly on our economic level. But my wife thinks that for the sake of our two young daughters we should keep the friends we have so that our children can grow up with theirs, etc. . . . even though it is all we can do to try to keep up with the kind of social life they can afford. What do you think?"

I think that you're absolutely right. Evidently trying to keep up a social life with friends who have so much more to spend isn't making either of you happy.

And what possible good can it do your children, as they grow older, to be shoved into a situation where all their friends have a lot more than they have?

There's no need to drop out completely from the crowd you have been going around with — but you can do it gradually without causing any hard feelings.

Just start being honest about not being able to afford to do some of the things they do. Look around for a few couples who like to do the kind of things you and your wife can afford.

You'll find that you'll genuinely enjoy your leisure time when you don't have to "keep up with the Joneses."

Gina Says She's a Big Girl, Now

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I'm a big girl," says Gina Lollobrigida. "After 15 years of marriage, I should be able to travel by myself."

The Italian beauty is here making a movie with Rock Hudson, "Strange Bedfellows." Her husband, Yugoslav born Dr. Drago Milko Skofic, is in Rome attending to his publishing business. Their divergence started tongues to wag, especially since she has been getting a whirl of the Hollywood night spots with Glenn Ford.

Gina couldn't care less about such talk.

"What am I supposed to do—go out alone?" she asked. "That would be even worse. I wouldn't think of going out with other women. I see it done in this country, but women would never dine out together in Italy."

The thought of staying home in her luxurious Beverly Hills hacienda doesn't appeal to her, either. She has been taking lessons in such exotic dances as the Watusi for her field trips into the local night life. Rome was never like this, she says.

"I have never seen such wild people as in some of the night clubs in Hollywood," she said.

She also has attended frequent dinner parties in her honor. This is a compliment, she said, but also a hazard.

Gina's charm can get her through most situations, and her return to Hollywood is welcomed by her fellow workers. Her enthusiasm for working here might be surprising, in light of her previous experience. Her first Hollywood film was "Never So Few," a lackluster venture epic with Frank Sinatra.

"I did it mainly to prove to Hollywood that I could work here in spite of Howard Hughes," she said. "I once signed an agreement with him, and he kept me from working in Hollywood for seven years without paying me a cent. Even after the contract was over, he made MGM pay him $50,000 to use me in 'Never So Few.' And after MGM paid him $75,000 so I

Intervention End In Cyprus Asked By Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev called today for an end to foreign intervention in Cyprus, saying he was confident the warring Greek and Turkish communities could find ways to live in peace in an independent Cyprus republic.

In an interview with the government paper Izvestia, Khrushchev said:

"We, the Soviet people, sympathize with those who are fighting for independence and sovereignty of the republic of Cyprus. The Soviet government has been and is firmly and consistently opposing all attempts from outside to impose on the Cypriots the terms of the solution of the internal problems of this republic."

Khrushchev made no mention of the U.N. peacekeeping force on Cyprus or whether he considered it "foreign interference."

could do 'Go Naked in the World.'"

Gina returned to make "The Lady L" with Tony Curtis. Both stars liked the script, but the new director, George Cukor, did not. Nine scripts and five months later, the project was shelved at a loss Gina reports at $2.5 million.

"I was paid for it—twice," she said, "but it was not good for me. I lost a whole year of work because I couldn't schedule other films. A year is too long to go without work."

Outshines Spahn

Two-Hit Victory
By Hank Fischer

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Shove over Warren Spahn. You may not be the Milwaukee Braves' only pitcher after all. Perched in third place in the National League standings, Manager Bobby Bragan's club today can look back on three complete game pitching victories in the last four starts.

Sunday's 1-0 two-hit masterpiece by Hank Fischer against the Phillies followed Bob Sadowski's five-hitter against Philadelphia and Tony Cloninger's one-hitter against the Pirates.

The only loss in the four game stretch was charged to a 43-year-old southpaw on the staff of youngsters. Fellow named Spahn.

Fischer, sprung from the bullpen, turned in his third straight route-going performance, retiring the last 16 batters he faced. The 24-year-old right-hander also produced the only run of the game in the second inning.

The shutout lowered Fischer's ERA to a flashy 1.93, best on the Braves' staff. "His best pitch was control," said catcher Ed Bailey. "He was hitting his spots and he made my job easy."

Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh came from behind to whip St. Louis 12-8; San Francisco topped Los Angeles 6-3; Houston beat Chicago 5-3 and Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets 6-5 and 6-3.

Fischer surrendered singles to Tony Gonzalez in the second and John Herrnstein in the fourth before shutting the door. He struck out four and walked two.

It was the first major league shutout for the $50,000 bonus baby who signed off the Seton Hall University campus in 1959.

Willie Stargell was the big gun for the Pirates driving in five runs with a home run and a single.

Juan Marichal had a shaky start before settling down and turning in his 10th straight victory for the Giants.

Willie Mays socked a single and his 10th homer raising his league-leading batting average to .459. Willie Davis had a two-run homer for the Dodgers.

Jim Wynn's two-run homer in the sixth carried Houston to its victory, the first for Hal (Skinny) Brown after two losses. Jim Beauchamp also homered for the Colts.

The Reds came from behind in both ends of their double victory over the Mets.

Tractor Accident
On Road Kills Man

HIRAM, Mo. (AP)—John Watkins, 38, of Hiram, was killed Saturday in a tractor accident on a rural road.

The Highway Patrol said Watkins was driving one tractor and pulling another, which was steered by his son, Bobby, 17.

The brakes failed on the second tractor going down a steep grade and it passed the first, overturning it. The elder Watkins was pinned under the tractor, which caught fire.

Missouri Is In Command
Of Big Eight Baseball Race

By JIM VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
Missouri is in command of the Big Eight baseball race but runner-up Kansas could carry the unbeaten Tigers to a showdown in their closing series at Lawrence May 19-20.

However, the schedule favors Missouri. Coach Hi Simmons' club has a three-game bulge in the lost column, with a 10-0 won-lost record against 9-3 for Kansas.

Kansas must stay within three games of Missouri on the lost side to retain a chance for the title. Even then Floyd Temple's club would need an unlikely closing three-game sweep to win the crown.

Missouri plays Oklahoma State Friday and Saturday in Columbia, then last-place Nebraska May 15-16, again at Columbia. Kansas, however, takes on potent Oklahoma Friday and Saturday in Lawrence before meeting Colorado in Boulder, where the Buffaloes are notoriously tough.

Missouri opened its league schedule with a sweep at Boulder and knocked Oklahoma out of the race last weekend with a sweep at Norman, climaxed by Jack Stroud's two-hit 1-0 victory Saturday.

Kansas knocked Iowa State into a third place tie with Oklahoma with a three-game sweep capped by Fred Chana's 3-0 two-hitter.

Adrian Mohr of Colorado pitched an 11-inning no-hitter, 4-0 at Nebraska in the other game. The entire Oklahoma State at Kansas State series was washed out.

In other games Friday and Saturday, Colorado is at Iowa State and Nebraska at Kansas State. Doubleheaders will be played at Lawrence and Manhattan, the reverse at Columbia and Ames.

Missouri's gilt-edged pitching has made the difference. The Tigers have won two games by a margin of two runs. Their pitchers have yielded only 1.4 runs a game. Iowa State has permitted 2.5, Kansas 3.1, Oklahoma 3.3.

Col. Nau Elected
By Reserve Officers

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Col. Robert H. Nau of Rolla is the new president of the Missouri Department Reserve Officers Association.

The association, at its annual meeting Sunday, also elected these vice presidents: Capt. Albert E. Hylton, Independence; John Lacy, Kansas City; and Cmdr. L.L. Nicholson, St. Louis.

Trades Work
Wonderfully
For Athletics

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rocky Colavito and Jim Gentile rank 1-2 in American League home runs and Kansas City's Manager Ed Lopat says the trades for the two sluggers "have worked out wonderfully for us so far."

Colavito, a right-handed pull hitter, has hit six out of the park, all in Kansas City where the ball carries to left better than in any AL park because of a prevailing south wind to that field.

Gentile, a left-handed swinger, isn't a consistent pull hitter but has the power to clear the 392-foot homer distance in right center. He has five homers, none close to owner Charles O. Finley's right field porch.

Between them, they have hit 11 homers and driven in 21 runs in 14 games. Each had a two-run homer in the first game and Colavito added a solo shot in the second Sunday as the A's swept two from Minnesota, 7-4 and 8-7.

"It's still early in the season," Lopat said. "Our young pitchers are starting to come around and they must do the job for us to make the trades successful. But I think they can do it."

"Rocky and Jim are off to fine starts and it looks like they could have real good years."

The A's sent second baseman Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Dave Wickersham and Ed Rakow to Detroit for Colavito and pitcher Bob Anderson. They sent Norm Siebern to Baltimore for Gentile. Anderson is now in the minors.

Lopat was pleased with the relief pitching of John Wyatt, who won both games, and rookie Jack Aker, brought up from Dallas Sunday.

"It was a great tonic for us after the Twins bombed our bullpen the first two games," the A's manager said.

The Twins hit 15 homers good for 20 runs in the series while the A's hit nine good for 14 runs, but managed a series split.

The A's have a 3 to 1 edge so far in homers hit to Finley's porch and the same 3-to-1 margin over the owner's new fence in center.

In Finley's book, these homers played a big part in three victories.

Twelve Homers

Athletics Take
Double-Header

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

What hath Charles Finley wrought?

When the incendiary owner of the Kansas City Athletics declared war on the American League, even he couldn't have envisioned the devastating effect his strategy would have on Kansas City's Municipal Stadium.

Twelve homers were hit Sunday as the Athletics swept a double-header from Minnesota 7-4 and 8-7. That output increased to 24 the number of homers hit in the four-game series between the teams.

The Twins connected for seven Sunday and 15 altogether while Kansas City pounded out five in the doubleheader and nine in the series.

Home runs are being hit at Municipal Stadium at more than twice the rate they were hit last season.

Of course, Finley's tactics have helped. He acquired home run sluggers Rocky Colavito and Jim Gentile during the winter and more recently constructed his Pennant Porch and shortened the fences generally. Colavito leads the league with six home runs while Gentile is tied for second with five. The closer fences have resulted in eight homers—six by the A's.

Finley may not win the war or the pennant, but he may beat the stadium into submission.

Elsewhere in the American League, there were three doubleheader splits. New York blanked Washington 4-0, then lost 6-5; Baltimore stopped Cleveland 5-2, then was shut out 3-0 and Chicago nipped Los Angeles 3-2, then dropped a 6-2 decision. Boston whipped Detroit 11-7 in the only single game.

Despite the home run attack, it took four walks in the ninth inning to win the nightcap for the Athletics. The Twins' Bill Pleis issued all of the passes, the last to George Alusik which forced in Nelson Mathews with the winning run.

Carl Yastrzemski joined the long ball parade with a grand slam homer that climaxed a run rally in the fifth inning and powered Boston past Detroit.

Dave Nicholson's three-run homer gave the White Sox their fifth straight triumph in the first game, but sterling relief pitching by Dean Chance helped the Angels halt the streak in the second.

Rookie left-hander Tommy John stopped Baltimore with a three-hitter in the second game of their doubleheader.

Washington barely fought off a ninth-inning rally in which the Yankees scored three times, cutting the Senators' margin from 6-2.

Britain To Meet Hapless
Irish Netmen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Great Britain, 1963 European Zone Davis Cup tennis winner and 1964 favorite, meets hapless Ireland in the second round this week. The series will be played at Eastbourne, England, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Britain completed its first round chores Saturday, beating Austria 5-0. Ireland had to go all the way and get some help from the weather Sunday to defeat Switzerland 3-2. Wind and rain which interrupted play a couple of times at Dublin didn't bother Ireland's Peter Jackson and Derek Arthurs as much as it did their opponents.

Italy, Germany and France, other European Zone favorites, scored impressive victories while Spain and Holland turned in a couple of surprises.

Italy dropped a singles match to Egypt at Bari after clinching the decision and won 4-1. Germany swept five matches from Belgium, using second-string players in the last two singles. France made it 5-0 over Bulgaria.

Argentina and Denmark also came through the first round without losing a match, against Turkey and Finland, respectively.

Spain, with Manuel Santana in the leading role, took the last two singles matches to eliminate Brazil 4-1. Russia got past Morocco the same way and by the same margin. Holland, which hadn't reached the second round in years, turned back Hungary 3-2.

Other weekend matches saw Norway defeat Portugal 4-1 and Rhodesia defeat Israel 4-1.

Earlier Yugoslavia and Sweden had scored first round victories and South Africa and Czechoslovakia had reached the second round by defaults.

After the Britain-Ireland match, the major second round encounters appear to be Germany vs. Russia and Italy vs. Rhodesia. Other pairings are Argentina vs. Yugoslavia, South Africa vs. Norway, France vs. Holland, Spain vs. Denmark, and Sweden vs. Czechoslovakia.

Missouri's run, which was unearned, came when Sooner short stop Ken Christian bobbled Bob Price's easy grounder in the sixth, allowing Gary Woods to streak home from third. Woods had singled and reached third on Jim Sevcik's single.

Bring Up Heavy Artillery To Shoot Down All Hurlers

Sunday was a good day for pitchers to stay indoors.

Kansas City, Minnesota, St. Louis and Pittsburgh all wheeled out their heavy artillery and shot down almost every hurler that took the mound.

In the process, the A's bombed the Twins twice, 7-4 and 8-7, in Kansas City. The Cardinals lost to the Pirates, 12-8, in St. Louis.

The A's, although out homered, 7 to 5, had the hits when they counted.

In the first game, Nelson Mathews cracked an inside-the-park homer and Jim Gentile hit a two-run blast, but four solo home runs by Minnesota still had them behind, 4-3. Kansas City's Manny Jimenez made it 5-4 with a two-run pinch-hit single and Rocky Colavito wrapped it up on a homer with a man on.

The fireworks had just begun. Tony Oliva's two-run clout offset a solo blast by Colavito and the Twins held a 4-1 lead in the nightcap.

But a three-run homer by rookie Tom Reynolds paced a six-run fourth and the A's led, 7-4. Homers by Jimmie Hall, his second of the day, and Don Mincher helped tie the score.

Kansas City won the game in the ninth without a hit. Bill Pleis walked four men to force home the winning run.

John Wyatt, one of the few unscathed hurlers, pitched a total of 3 2-3 innings in relief for both victories.

In St. Louis, only two homers were hit, both by Pittsburgh, but the hitters still didn't let the pitchers off easy.

The Pirates and Cardinals collected 29 safeties between them, including a three-run homer by Willie Stargell of the Pirates, and a bases-loaded triple by the Cardinals' Curt Flood.

The Cardinals blew a 7-3 lead as relievers Lew Burdette, Ray Sadecki, Ron Taylor and Harry Fanek all failed to halt the Pirates.

Stargell's homer gave the Pirates a brief 3-0 lead and doubles by Roberto Clemente and Donn Clendenon each drove in runs that put Pittsburgh ahead for good in the sixth.

League-leading Philadelphia comes to St. Louis for a game tonight while Kansas City entertains Los Angeles.

Bob Gibson 2-0 will pitch for the Cardinals against either Dennis Bennett 2-1 or Ray Culp 1-2.

The A's will throw Orlando Pena 2-2 against Bob Lee 1-0.

Skelly Keotane Report No. 2:

"I know I got extra mileage..."

"With Skelly Keotane, I improved my mileage from 1 to 3 miles to a gallon," reported Mr. Eugene Gunnerson, Topeka, Kansas, "and the power was stepped up considerably."

PROVE TO YOURSELF, as these drivers did, that The Best Additives DO Make The Best Gasolines:

Here are reports from more of the 1,138 Topeka car owners who tried a sample of Skelly's additive, Keotane:

"I get an extra 2 miles to the gallon, and a little over," reports Mrs. Edna M. Boyd, who tried Keotane. "All-around better power."

"Seemed to have a lot more power and a lot more get-away than before I started to use Keotane," reported Mr. C. B. Briggs.

"More zip and pick-up with Keotane," reports Mrs. R. V. Dahl. "An increase in mileage of about 2 miles to the gallon. Gave excellent performance."

"In city driving, my car seemed to have more power, and accelerated better," reports Mr. R. B. Harrold. "The car ran so free, so smooth."

Recently, when Skelly invited car owners in Topeka, Kansas, to try a sample of Skelly's patented additive, Keotane, in whatever gasoline they were using, 1,138 car owners accepted. Later, when Skelly asked, "What happened?" 297 car owners replied. Not all had gotten mileage increases, not all had continued to use Keotane, and not all had kept records. But...

Of those who kept records and reported...

- 50% claimed more mileage*
- 58% claimed more power*
- 51% were still using Skelly Gasoline!

(Mileage and power compilations verified by Ernst & Ernst, a national firm of Certified Public Accountants.)

*Naturally, Skelly can't guarantee you the same results. But you can get the same additive, Keotane, in Skelly Keotane Gasoline. It costs no more than other major brand premium gasolines. So why not try 3 tankfuls and see what results you do get?

Answers Your Problems

Ann, Honey: We read your great little column every day, day, Doll, and we believe your advice is generally sound, often helpful, and sometimes, Cupcake, it is downright hilarious.

However, Toots, your adorable little cutesy-wootsy names for those who write to you are a bit much.

So, Babe, will you kindly cut out the chummy little handles? The Buddy-Boy approach to a person who may be twice your age detracts from your otherwise sensible writing—and you should know it, Sweetie.

We sincerely hope you will accept this criticism in the spirit of friendship, since this is the way it is intended, Buttercup.—SUGAR AND SPICE.

Dear S and S: Thanks. I'll watch it Lambie Pie.

Dear Ann Landers: Can you

Lost Boy Found Unharmed In Youth's Room

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—Police will decide today what to do with a lonely young dishwasher who said he picked up a 3-year-old boy in New York City because "he looked lost and cold."

The dishwasher, James Savage, 17, admitted picking up Timothy Hughes near the World's Fair Saturday and bringing him 25 miles by bus to his rented room in Woodbridge. The boy was found there Sunday, unharmed and apparently well cared for.

Savage, a runaway from a state school who has been in 25 foster homes, was held in Middlesex County juvenile detention quarters, booked on an open charge.

Timothy was back in Queens, N.Y., with his policeman father, Gerard, his mother, Lorraine, and brother, Richard, 7.

New York police had conducted a block-by-block search for the boy in the Flushing section of Queens, where he was last seen by his mother in a playground.

Savage said he spotted the boy outside the World's Fair, about eight blocks from the playground, at 5 p.m. Saturday. "He looked lost and cold," Savage told police, "and I've been lost and cold myself."

He said he had tried to find the boy's parents.

1964 Tornado Season May Match 1957

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Clashing spring squalls above Mid-American are threatening to make the 1964 tornado season a match for the last real hard twister year—1957.

Don House, in charge of the Weather Bureau's tornado warning service, isn't predicting it will be, but he says, "It just might be shaping up that way."

The funnel cloud season—April through June—produced 140 damaging and death dealing storms over the nation last month.

In April, 1957, the warning service in Kansas City plotted 289 tornadoes. But, House points out, May has been the big producer of weather systems which fashion the dreaded clouds, so it might be 1957 all over again.

This April the area generally referred to as Tornado Alley—an elliptical section running from central Oklahoma through Wichita and Topeka to near Des Moines, and ranging from 250 to 150 miles in width—produced 66 killing and damaging storms.

The worst of the powerful swirling clouds killed six persons as it struck first in eastern Kansas, moved to western Missouri and then into southern Iowa, on Sunday, April 12. Three of the victims died as a storm picked up their cars on a highway near Garnett, Kan.

But there are at least two other major Tornado Alleys.

No. 2 is a 75-mile wide area from near Paris, Texas, through Shreveport, La., to Memphis, Tenn., and winding up in southeast Missouri's Bootheel.

Another tornado-swept section runs from Jackson, Miss., to Albany, Ga., a distance of 225 miles, and the storms range over a width of 100 miles.

Last month, 37 tornadoes swept Alley No. 2 and 28 damaged areas in the third major section. Other twisters ranging up the Ohio Valley, and some as far north as New York state account for the remainder of the 1964 April total.

Tornado danger does not end with the end of June. "There's no real end to the tornado season," House says. "A tornado may strike any place, anytime—morning, noon, afternoon or night—any place in the nation."

Versailles Group Visits in LaMonte

Members of the Christian Church, Versailles, attended a Men's fellowship dinner at LaMonte, April 24. The men attended the dinner and the women were taken on a tour of the new church and spent the evening in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Ray Smith. Mr. Smith is pastor of the LaMonte church.

Those from Versailles making the visit were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shepp, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McLennan, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lendsay, the Rev. and Mrs. Alford Scott, Mrs. G. B. Phillips, Mrs. Earl Shelley, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Voltz, Mrs. Nora Keeth, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Caine, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Thomson, and Mr. and Mrs. Estel Dutcher, of Barnett.

There are times when I hear people knock and I don't want to be bothered, so I pretend not to hear. They walk right in and shout, "Yoo hoo. I know you're home because the door is open."

Please tell me what to do. I am hog-tied.—OPEN SESAME.

Dear Open: Keep your door locked. Instruct your children to knock or ring the bell in a special way so you'll know who it is. You can then ignore all other knocks and bell-ringing if you wish to.

An open door is an invitation to something far more serious than a brassy neighbor. Use your head, Lady.

Truman History Work Lags During Fuss Over Birthday

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry S. Truman isn't getting much done on his history projects this week—too many people making a fuss over his 80th birthday coming up Friday.

Today he had 333 congratulatory telegrams and letters to read. They came from President Lyndon B. Johnson, Herbert Hoover, Dwight D. Eisenhower, senators, congressmen, ambassadors, chiefs of state abroad.

Wednesday about 250 old friends will honor him at a luncheon in Kansas City, just as they have done every year since he left the White House.

Friday he'll be in Washington for his usual birthday luncheon with friends from the investigating committee he headed while in the Senate.

President Johnson expects to join them, having cancelled plans to come to Kansas City.

Besides the traveling and dinging, the usual steady stream of visitors chips away at the busy ex-president's time.

Despite all that, Truman may get in some licks at his work. Just as in his farm days he's up at 5 a.m. and often beats his staff to the office in the Truman library.

Still chipper, he has made few concessions to advancing age. One is a nap at noon, perhaps another when he goes home at 3:30 p.m.

His over-riding task at the office is setting down for history the turbulent time he spent in the White House.

Truman is working on 26 half-hour television shows. Each will begin with Truman telling about

Personnel Policy At GM Protested

DETROIT (AP)—Civil rights demonstrators, protesting what one leader termed a lily white personnel policy by General Motors Corp., planned to picket GM national headquarters in midtown Detroit from noon to 6 p.m. today.

General Motors has denied it discriminates and has cited employment of nonwhites in practically every echelon of the world's largest corporation.

Arthur Johnson, spokesman for the Detroit chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the demonstration would be "part of a national effort to get GM to change its employment practices."

Herbert Hill, national labor secretary of the NAACP contends that "General Motors is lily white" from supervisory personnel up. GM says this isn't so; that it employs Negroes in supervisory, engineering and other positions.

He steps out on the stage of the auditorium and talks to them. They are studying history. He helped to make it.

"Ask me what you want to know," he'll say to them. And the questions come.

Harry Truman made history. He's doing his best to see that its lessons live on.
